FACES IN THE CROWD

WITHROW HIGH SCHOOL
CINCINNATI, OHIO

WITHROW IS LIFE. LIFE IS PEOPLE. PEOPLE ARE FACES. WITHROW IS FACES.

THE FACE OF THE PAST ENVELOPES US. VICARIOUSLY THROUGH RECORDED CHRONICLES, WE LAY THE FOUNDATIONS OF THE PRESENT AND BLAZE THE PATHS OF THE FUTURE.

THE FACE OF KNOWLEDGE BECKONS US. INTO THE DEPTHS OF LIBRARY, CLASSROOM, LABORATORY WE DELVE.

THE FACE OF TRADITION BINDS US. YET HEARTS THUMP AT THE CALLING OF A DUX OR SIG, AND ATHLETIC EVENTS INCITE RIVALRY.

THE FACE OF PERSONALITY DISTINGUISHES US. PENSIVE, GREGARIOUS, AESTHETIC, ATHLETIC —EDUCATION MOLDS US DIFFERENTLY SO THAT WITHROW REPRESENTS MORE THAN PARTITIONED CLASSROOMS.

THE FACE OF THE FUTURE PROJECTS US. OUR RISING SILHOUETTES EMERGE FROM ONE CROWD, EBB INTO ANOTHER, AND AGAIN EMANATE.

WE ARE A COMBINATION OF ALL THESE FACES. TOGETHER THEY DETERMINE THE FACES OF WITHROW, FOR THESE ARE THE

FACES IN THE CROWD.

THE PAST MINGLES WITH THE FUTURE TO CAST THE SHADOW OF AN EVER-TRANSIENT PRESENT. YET, THE ESSENCE OF WITHROW ENDURES . . .

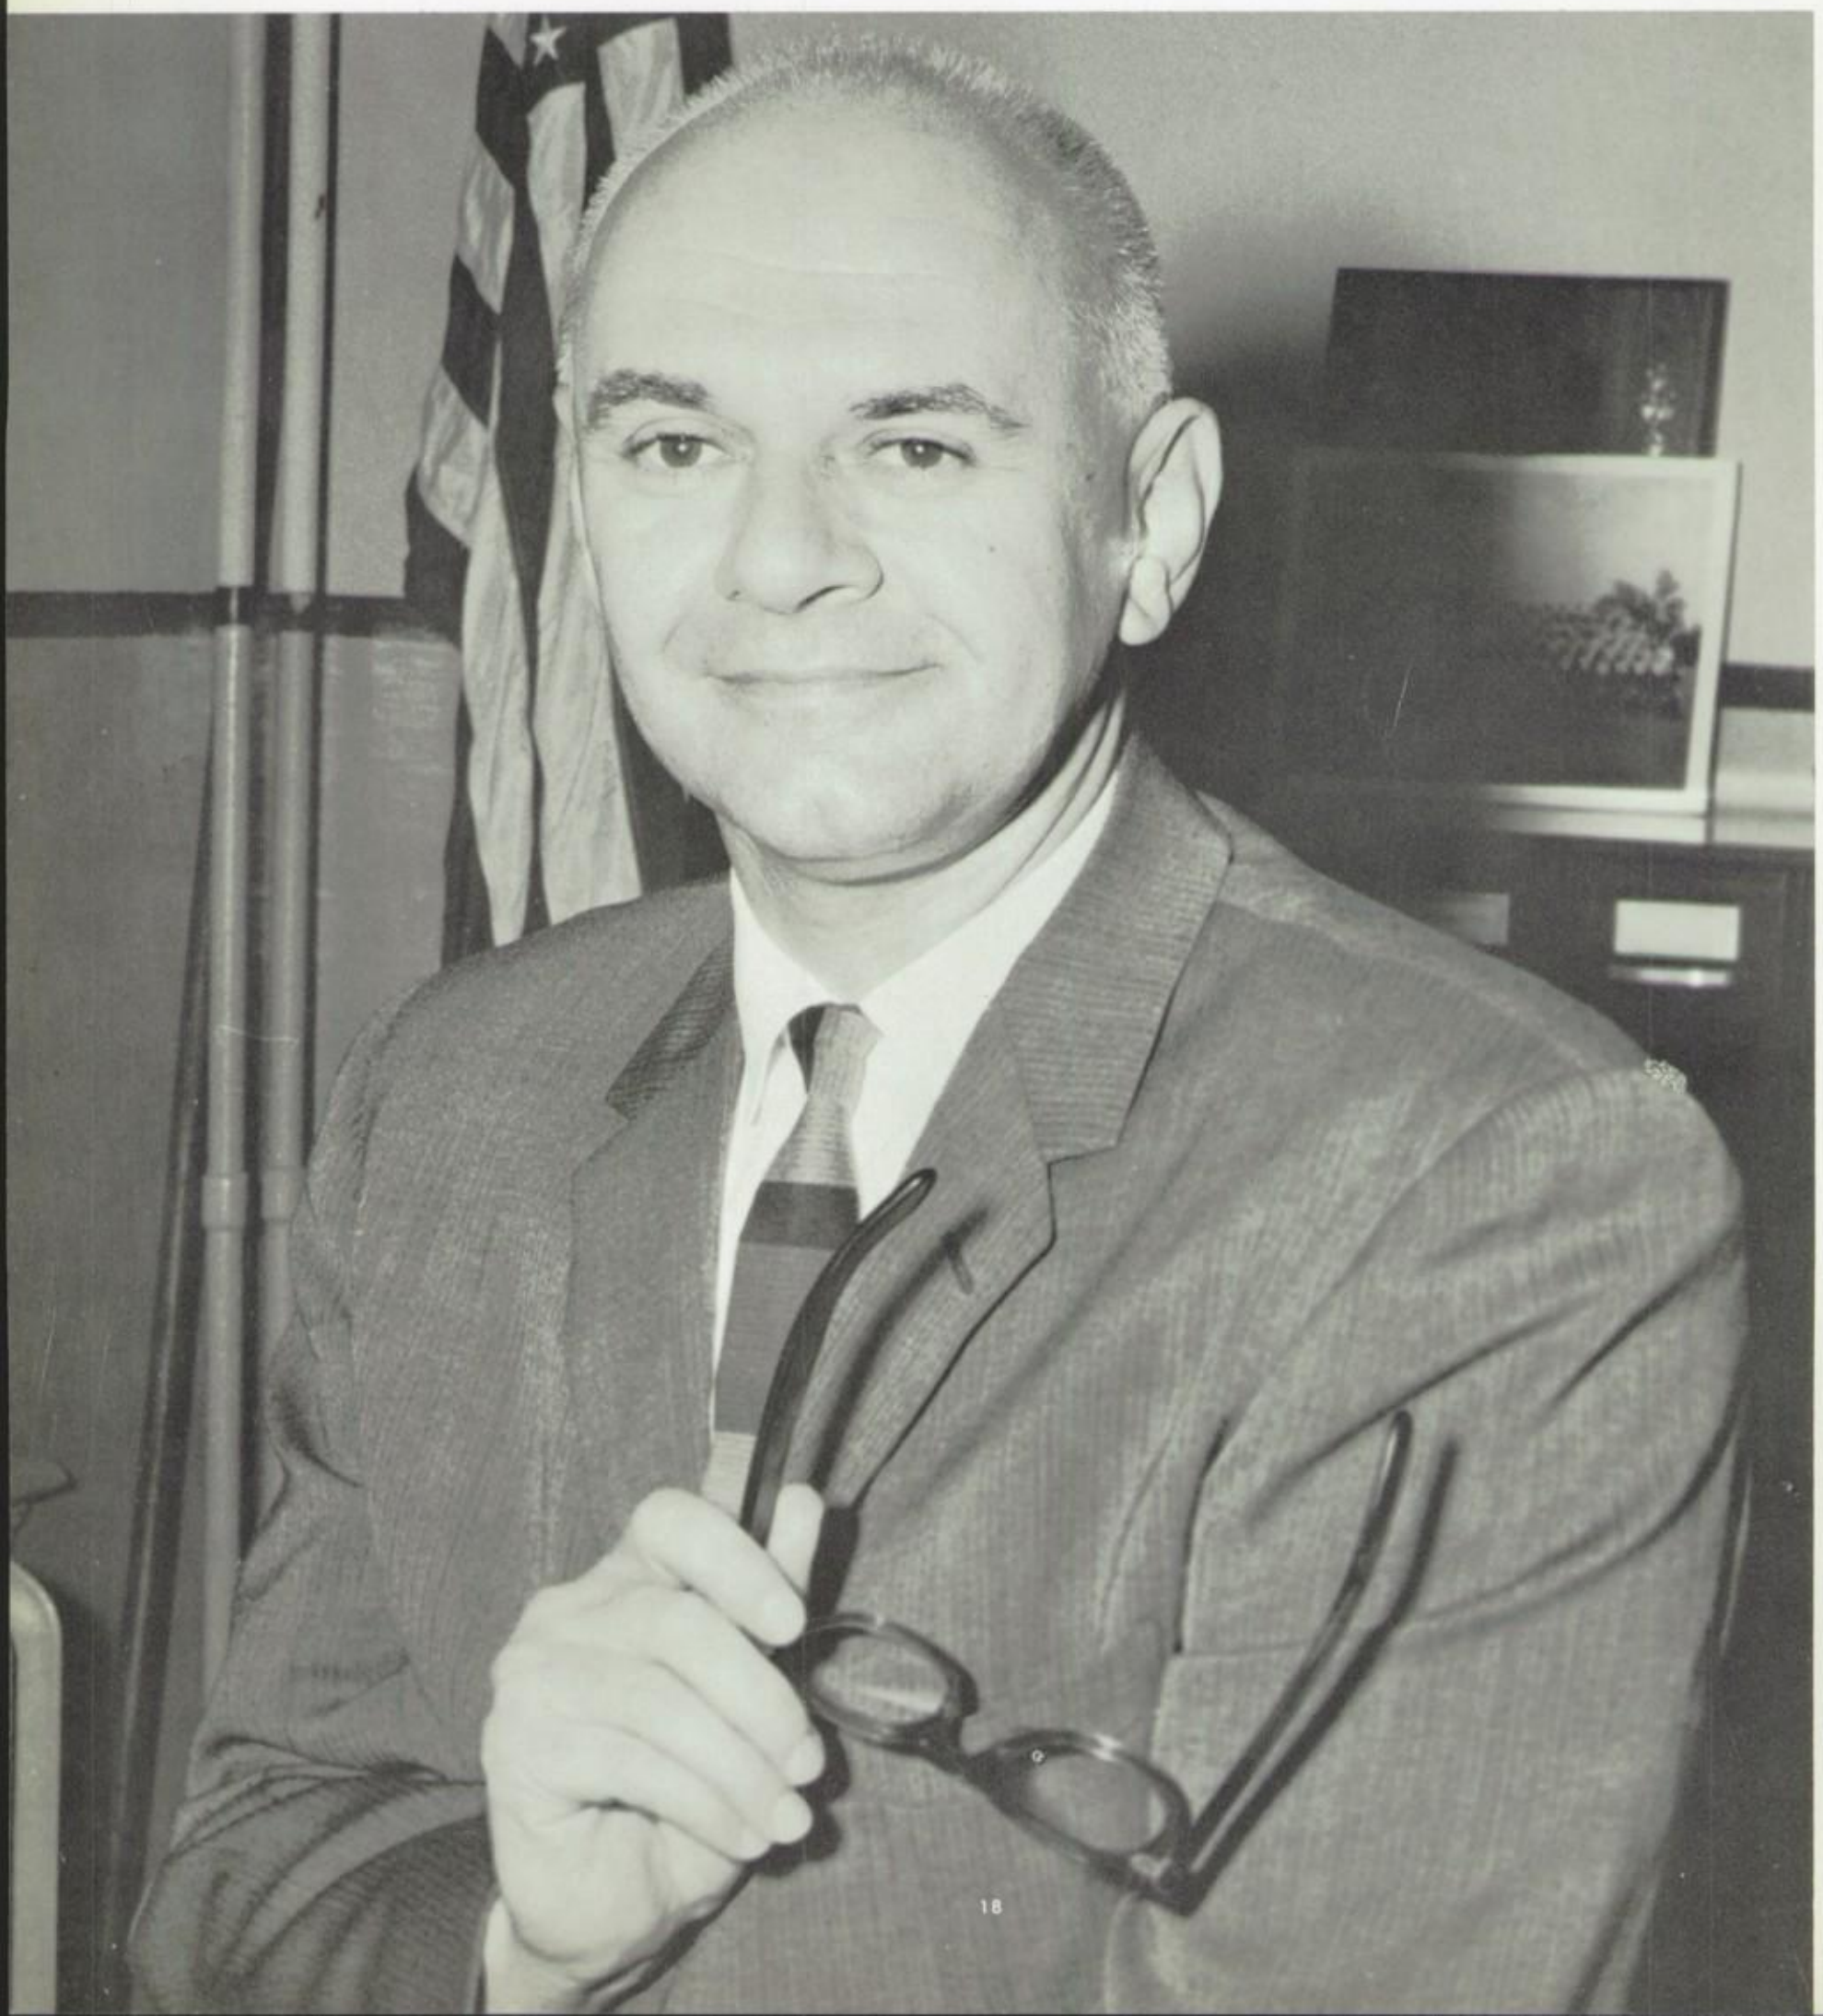
BEING THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF A COMMUNITY SUCH AS WITHROW DEMANDS A SINCERE, CONFIDENT MAN WITH A SENSE OF HUMOR, DIGNITY AND JUSTICE. OUR MUCH RESPECTED LEADER IS SUCH A MAN—JOSEPH C. AYER.



THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S CABINET MEMBERS AID IN GOVERNING THE COMMUNITY.

MR. RONALD LYONS

An assistant principal came into contact with many students. He learned their likes, dislikes, weaknesses, and abilities; and at the same time he watched them mature from youngsters to young adults. Seeing these gradual changes became the motivating force behind the work of Withrow's assistant principals. Mr. Ronald Lyons adopted the National Junior Honor Society as his "pet" project and skillfully formulated plans to improve it. The three years he spent as a pilot for the Air Force helped him cultivate leadership ability, which was necessary for performing his duties as an administrator. Improving school spirit was one of Mr. William McElhaney's dominant aims as he encouraged each person to promote every school activity, not just the games, or just the dances. Besides supporting these school functions, "Mr. Mac" perfected his own favorite sport—golf. When in a less active mood, reading historical novels about the French Revolution interested him. Miss Violet Balastra displayed special interest in the senior class, as she helped with the planning of the class project. Ordering rings for the eager juniors also occupied her time. After assisting students all day at school, Miss Balastra relaxed by gardening, canning, painting, or fishing in her own lake. No matter what duties were assigned to them, the three assistant principals welcomed the chance to help more students. Mixing this unselfish outlook with tact and competence, Withrow derived three outstanding administrators.

COUNSELORS

Guests were always welcome to Withrow's art gallery for a tour of this portrait room. The painting on the left is of the faculty adviser for Dux Femina and the "It's Academic" team, Mrs. Virginia Konrad. Next to her portrait is that of Mr. Darwin Kimble, who considered piecing students' schedules together to be as interesting as ceramics. To the right can be found the counselor who delighted in talking to different people, especially students, to learn their ideas. This man's name is, of course, Mr. Robert Vickers. Situated next to the conversationalist is Mr. Robert Blake, who served as the faculty adviser for the honored boys of Sigma Gamma. The first painting on the next wall depicts Miss Elizabeth Lemmon working diligently to guide the junior high students to a profitable life at Withrow. Beside Miss Lemmon is Miss Lulu B. Murphy. Besides counseling, Miss Murphy took charge of the diet kitchen in a boys' summer camp. These six pictures are a sample of the quality masterpieces that can be found in the Tigertown art gallery. Tigers appreciated this courteous attention.

"Well-Wishers Wishing Wells," which appeared at the end of the lunch line every Monday, played a large part in Student Council's major project for one year. Collecting small change donations from the pupils, their contents and profits from candy and calendar sales helped Council to near its goal—to raise money for support of one foreign exchange student. By working with an adult committee, Council planned to provide for a 1966 senior through the sponsorship of the American Field Service. Next on the list of projects was the organization of a Safety Committee, whose members helped devise a more efficient method of evacuating the building during fire drills, numbered the stairwells and exits, and placed in each room signs telling through which door that room should exit. Directing these undertakings were the officers: Clarence Adams, Carl Davis, Judy Oppt, and Lisa Sand.

BECK, VIRGINIA O.: A.B., B.E.—U.C.; Dept. Chairman

Whose words these are, I better know for upon this test I now must show. These lines were spoken by many of the English students here at Withrow. Eager-to-learn citizens of Tigertown acquired the knowledge of poems and their authors and the personalities of the characters in plays and novels. Twenty-eight teachers composed the department which lead students to a better understanding of this universal language. The performers from Miss Rosenberger's dramatics classes used this inheritance to portray human emotions while the girls of Scribblers discussed both new and classic literary works. This knowledge was also used by the librarians who helped distressed students find necessary information. We have learned from the past to appreciate these treasures. But we have many items yet to learn and miles to go before we are through.

LITERATURE STIMULATES WITHROWITES TO USE THEIR IMAGINATION AND RESOURCEFULNESS TO PEER INTO THE DEPTHS OF CLASSIC ADVENTURES, POEMS, PLAYS.

SCRIBBLERS

Splat! Pies splashed wildly on windows, heaters, and coats as the cornstarch concoctions skimmed toward cringing Scribblers. The apprehensive but game girls were amply rewarded for their tribulations when their pie-slinging Tigertown booth netted a sizable profit. As the year progressed, less enduring activities were in store for the junior and senior members of this honorary literary club. Chosen by the quality of the essays they submitted at the beginning of the year, the new Scribblers utilized their ability by penning poems about their big sisters. Making a scrapbook of Christmas cards and corresponding poems, sponsoring a writing c o n t e s t, listening to speakers, holding an open house—the Scribblers promoted not only literature, but also the spirit of Withrow.

WITHROW, THE SCHOOL OF OPPORTUNITY, OPENS ITS DOORS TO SPECIAL EDUCATION FOR THOSE WITH VISUAL, HEARING, OR SPEECH HANDICAPS.

MRS. MARIETTA MARTIN OBTAINED HER B.S. FROM OHIO STATE.

The special education department was divided into three sections: for those hard of hearing; for those visually handicapped; and for those with a speech defect. Mrs. Stevens, the head of the hearing department, has been one of the four teachers of the deaf at Withrow. Mr. Goldfarb was instrumental in developing a drivers' education program for the deaf; and fairly recent was the switch from sign language to total use of lip reading in the classes. Closely associated to that section was the speech program, which was taken on a voluntary basis. Each case was different, both in type and degree. Mrs. Loescher, head of the department explained that this course aided students to speak better phonetically, and helped to better adjust them for speech activities, such as public address. The third section was one for the blind, which was comprised of four students. Mrs. Martin, the only teacher of the blind at Withrow, was one of three in the city. The sessions, which averaged one and a half to two hours a week, were entirely individual. Yet, no matter what the section of special education, it was primarily the devotions of these teachers that helped their students overcome the obstacles of their handicap.

A VISIT TO ART CLUB BY CINCINNATI PAINTER ROBERT FABE PROMPTED A LARGE TURNOUT OF INTERESTED CLUB AND FACULTY MEMBERS

Waging battles for imagination and creativity, the Art Department strove to discover talents in art-minded students. Department Chairman Jack Mueller and his comrades—Miss Ilo Stose, Miss Marian Hawes, and Mr. Ralph Cook—taught their pupils drawing, painting, and working with wood, metal, and clay. Some of the workmanship has been quite good, shown by the many entries in past Scholastic Art Awards contests and Zoo Arts Festivals. The Art Department aided in yearly displays in the teachers' lunchroom and school lobby, and the students painted windows during Brotherhood Week. Mr. Mueller, Withrow's answer to Pablo Picasso, was also the adviser for Art Club, a group whose function was to bring art students together to discuss and develop their ideas. During class-time the teachers guided their pupils in thinking creatively and seeing new relationships between art and man's emotions. Art class was a pleasant break in the tedium of a school day. With close to an hour of working time, he could lose his worries in molding a lump of clay or painting a picture. Art holds the key to man's ability to express his ideas to the rest of the world.

THEN, AS ALL GOOD COOKS KNOW, A PINCH OF SALT WILL WORK WONDERS.

Climbing into the time machine, captained by Miss Monica Caveman, Withrow Social Studies students soared through the ages, reliving cultural backgrounds of the major continents. Carrying them from earliest recorded history through the Renaissance were World and Modern History, which were refueled for the next lap by American History. Stressing the advantages of democracy over communism, they dealt with the world's "missile-era" modernization. Civics, World Geography, Job and Economic Relations and Socio-Economic Problems completed the flight pattern. Junior pilots learned government functions through History Club sessions. Contemplating future flights, Miss Caveman commented: "We try to produce effective participants in democracy."

EXPLAINING "WHY" AS WELL AS "HOW" IS TYPICAL OF NEW MATH

Look! A new face in the crowd! It was the new space-age math taught at Withrow. This new concept in teaching was characterized by deductive reasoning, precise use of language, and unified ideas. Employing such ideas created no need for relearning concepts at higher stages, such as, structure, set theory, systems of numeration, and properties of numbers. As a result of hard work on the part of Withrow's math teachers, the math taught here was the correct and significant—but always changing—math of our time.

After blending five excellent Home Economics teachers with students having a desire to learn the homemaking skills, Withrow's Home Ec department came near perfection. From serving a Christmas tea for faculty members to forming F.H.A. for future homemakers, this department kept its activities moving about the school. A specially formed Home Economics IV class prepared a scholarship tea for The Cincinnati Home Economics class and also slipcovered the chairs in the department's all-purpose room. Several Withrow girls were sent to Shillito's and Mabley and Carew to be our representatives on their Sewing Boards. Many awards were offered by this department, such as, the Crisco Award for one outstanding Home Ec II or III student. These ingredients, when creamed together, gave assurance for better homemakers of the tomorrows to come in America.

Do, re, mi . . . the first bell practice of Withrow's Senior Choir has started. When the conductor needed assistance in practice sessions or planning programs for Christmas and Spring concerts, Minstrels, or contest, he was assisted by Choir president Cathy Jennings. Further assistance was given by accompanist Geniva Kinard and managers Gary Ford and Ron Boyles. The sixteen best voices were combined to form Madrigal, who this year performed on WCET. Selling chocolate bars and tickets for the concerts and Minstrels helped raise the money needed to care for the robes, music and other items. Each year all new members are initiated by the Choir "Mixer," a dinner and evening of fun so members get to know each other. Hours of practice and training have earned the choir many honors here at Tigertown. In both district and state contests in the past years, choir has earned high honors.

INTRODUCING THE TIGER MARCHING BAND

STRIKE UP THE SPIRIT FOR A PRE-SCHOOL PEP RALLY.

"Now we present the Withrow Tiger Band, with George G. Smith, director; Phil Thomas, drum major; and Jolinda McMahon, head majorette." This familiar cry was heard before each half-time performance of the band. When not marching in football season, they cast ballots for officers to govern the throng. President Todd Bardes was aided by secretary, Regina Plair; treasurer, John Stolzenberg; and vice president, Alex Sanford. Next on the agenda was the Christmas Concert. March came roaring in with the Spring Concert. Soon after, May blossomed with the thirty-fifth edition of Withrow Minstrels. Final performance was given at the night of commencement.

TEDIOUS PRACTICE SOON BRINGS REWARDING RESULTS.

Faces, faces, faces. Painting a portrait required an exceptional face. The main face that exceeded with all individuals at Withrow was that of the Annual. Its features and expressions, compiling events and effects of the fun and fulfillment of all present and serving as a reminder in future years, made it an appropriate subject for an artist. A stroke of the brush produced two eyes, the Art and Literary Staffs. With a brush of realistic details they captured the vast panorama of activities on campus. The nose was stuck in centers of animation, sniffing news recent and traditional to Withrow. More paint and the ears—Mr. Jack Mueller and Miss Susan Richmond—were designed as the listening element which was an infinite fund of suggestions improving the Annual's contents. Going deeper into its features produced the brains, the controlling factor of all its functions. The guidance of the Art Editor Anne Shumway and Literary Editor Peg Schmitt and Assistant Editor Karen Worth directed the course of the Annual. Expressions revealing the personality made the face. Quizzical demeanors of intense thought as layouts were planned and copy written unfolded the most appealing book of all. A final stroke and the portrait was completed. The most important feature was added—the mouth—for between Annual's covers the tale of the Tigers was told.

"The King was in the counting house counting out his money." The Annual Business Staff was in Room 160 counting out Annual's money. The King of the business world at Withrow certainly was the Annual Business Staff with a head for money matters. His eyes registered dollar signs as he saw different money making projects, such as, sponsoring the Annual Homecoming Dance and the selling of the Annual. His super sensitive nose was capable of sniffing a prospective buyer. After the scent of this buyer was caught, his mouth spelled the enthusiastic sales pitch for his superb product. The jingle of money rang in his ears as his sale was completed. Two heads are better than one when it comes to counting money and sales. The combined heads of Mr. Arthur Rhollans (Adviser) and Johanna Maginn (Editor) assisted the head of the Annual Business Staff in making 1965 a most successful year.

Captain Morris Jones

"Football '65" was a kaleidoscope of faces in the crowd. The players, captains, coaches, managers, cheerleaders, and fans all teamed up to score a winning season. New stadium lights and the resulting home night games were the sensations of the year. A new kind of Tiger fan graced the stand in the form of an overflowing adult section. Led by Captain Morris Jones, the colorful Withrow squad gave many a thrill to the large Friday night crowds. Re-echoing cheers and chants were led by Connie Renshaw and her band of seven shouting, springing cheerleaders. Pacing up and down the sidelines of every game were Head Coach Merritt and Assistant Coach Burton, both intently observing the action. All these faces played vital roles in the pigskin pastime, and each served his or her part in this Withrow tradition.

High tension, rugged action, sweet victories and heart-breaking defeats—there was the story of Football '65 from a 12-12 tie against highly-touted St. Xavier to a 24-16 beating from traditional rival Walnut Hills. The city's fastest backfield equipped Withrow with a scoring punch that smashed its way for a 28-points-per-game average. The Tiger defense twice stopped league opponents from crossing the Withrow goal line. This great combination enabled the Tigers to clinch a tie for the PHSL championship with one game still remaining unplayed. At season's end, four team members were selected for positions on the all-league starting eleven, and Coach Merritt was voted "Coach of 1965" in the PHSL.

RESERVE FOOTBALL

Reserve Captains: G. Glass, J. Cobb, S. Shelton, Coach Hlad.

With hopes to build a strong team and prospective varsity material, Coach Michael Hlad presided over summer practice for the Reserve Football team. A large group of boys were on hand for the tryouts, giving Mr. Hlad confidence that he could shape a successful team from their ranks. Following a gruelling period of hard work, the team embarked upon its season in high hopes. However, their first game was offensively a disappointment, for it ended in a 0-0 tie with Aiken. An aggressive defense held Aiken to minus yardage in the first half, but the Tiger offense just would not click. Of four passes thrown by Withrow, the only completion was to an Aiken player. In the next two games the reserves went down to defeat at the hands of Taft and Hughes, 13-6 and 12-6, respectively. One week later Withrow recorded their first and only win of the season by subduing Central 18-6. Central opened with a touchdown on the opening kickoff, but was never in the game after that. In closing out their season, the Tiger reserves were thumped by Western Hills 18-0. The game was lost by a lack of determined defense on Withrow's part. Standout players in a fair season were Julius Cobb, Clarence George, Charles Glass, and Don Lawrence.

"Despite an average record, determination and concerted teamwork made this team a notable one," said Coach Charles Cadle of the '65 football freshmen. With John Thomas serving as captain and the other ninth graders alternating as co-captain, the Tiger cubs established a two-win, four-loss showing. The outstanding players on a surprisingly well-balanced team were quarterback Gary Bushillion, fullback Ellis Breckenridge, and tackle Bob Mason. This year's freshmen were an excellent example of "espirt de corps," overcoming an extreme size deficiency in their line and gave welcome hope for the 1966 junior pigskinners.

Managers: R. Matthews, T. Redmond, B. Dalton.

Unselfish play and a coordinated effort exemplified the 1964-65 varsity basketball season. Following a fine display of teamwork all season long, the Tigers were rated fourth in the state in the AP and UPI polls. Coach John Huheey made good use of his five seniors and six juniors in developing a potent fast-breaking offense and stingy defense. Clarence Adams and Mark Todd, standouts on last year's squad, were usually joined by Floyd Beason, Steve Reece, and Greg Carr in the starting lineup. Also seeing plenty of action were Mike Ferone and Paul White. Withrow's scoring was normally well distributed, with the above-mentioned players having each led the Tigers at one time or another.

GUARD STEVE REECE TAKES A SHORT JUMPER AGAINST MARIEMONT.

The undefeated Withrow Tigers entered the District Tournament top-seeded among champions. First opponents for Coach Huheey's squad were the Trojans of Glen Este. Withrow started cold and for most of the first half could not pull away from the shorter Glen Este team. The defending District Champions finally caught fire and in the second half put the outcome beyond doubt. The 56-44 score did not reflect the full ability of the Tigers. Next were the Mariemont Warriors. The game progressed in much the same way as the Glen Este contest, with the final tally being 58-47 in Withrow's favor. In the quarterfinals came Anderson—a team that we had beaten by only one point, 49-48, in the regular season. The teams struggled through two frustrating halfs, with the second one ending at 42-42. Anderson won, 44-42, with two points in the final seconds of overtime.

LED BY JUNIORS CARL DAVIS AND AL SEWELL, THE WITHROW TRACK TEAM LOOKED FORWARD TO MAKING A STRONG BID TO REPEAT AS PHSL CHAMPIONS.

In the tradition of strong Tiger track teams, this year's squad presented a talented, experienced front line in almost all events. After a successful spring practice session, the team opened its pre-season meet schedule. In two PHSL triangular contests, Withrow overwhelmed their opponents in resounding victories. Our team totals more than doubled the second place finishers. Carl Davis captured first place in the 220, 440, and 880 sprints in both meets. With another strong league this year, the Tigers can expect a tough job in defending their title.

COACH ERNST DISCUSSES TECHNIQUE WITH MR. INMAN.

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of baseball, the chirping of birds and blooming of flowers are soon followed by the zip of horsehide and crack of bats. Such was the case at Withrow as Coaches Ernst and Inman kept the lads away from their lasses for practice on the baseball field. For the first time a reserve team was organized in this sport. The reserve team gave more boys an opportunity to participate at the interscholastic level. The first four games were canceled for the regulars due to foul weather. Not having seen their playing in action, the coaches could only project that with steady pitching and timely hitting they could have a successful year.

Withrow's Tigers turned to sea lions as our swimming team pooled its efforts to the task of preparing for the season. Their labors paid off in fine individual performances at the PHSL and district meets. At Aiken's new natatorium Mike Falk was fourth in diving; Mike Murphy, second in the butterfly; and our free style relay squad, third. In the following district contest Mike Falk and the relay team both placed sixth. By final accounting, Withrow's varsity ranked sixth in the city and Mike Murphy qualified for state competition. The junior high team faired even better, finishing fourth in the city standings and eighth in the district. On a well-balanced squad the best performers were Bob Uihlein, Don Vilardo, and Jesse Love. They earned two third and two second place finishes in the city with extra honors at the district to wrap up an exceptional year.

SWIMMING IN MEETS AND LEARNING TO SAVE LIVES OCCUPIED MOST OF THE DOLPHIN SWIMMERS' TIME.

"Cross chest carry! Block and parry!" These commands, heard amid the gales of laughter, escaped from the girls' pool on Thursdays after school. Here the Senior High Dolphins learned the fundamentals of life saving under the expert direction of Miss Leslie, assisted by Ann Chisholm and Kay Grischy, Dolphin Club's president and treasurer, respectively. Dolphin swimmers learned the basic carries and blocks outside the pool, practiced in the pool, and demonstrated their skill for Miss Leslie's approval. All was not work with no play though. Besides studying life saving, these girls participated in intra-school swimming meets, the best Withrow swimmers eventually working their way to the city finals where the winners were proclaimed city champions. Those girls who earned enough points during the year received a charm at the end of the year for their exceptional ability and outstanding participation.

JO MAGINN

Long after the lengthening shadows of late afternoon silenced the halls of Withrow, a metronome reverberated. Its tempo was determined by Jo Maginn. It pounded as the pulsated tap of her rhythmical feet paced a pony chorus or whispered as her creative hand personified the history of Scribblers. It measured each staccato beat of an adding machine's reciting the jingle of Annual's coinage. Then ensued those stabilizing elements—that bobbing flip of golden waves, that insatiable gnawing for popcorn (acting as Dux's president, she had weekly access to an incessant supply), that indelible infection of her laugh. The shadows deepened, but the metronome pervaded and so did "Jobey."

SENIORS

"A busy person is a happy person," and Wayne Corney believed it. Never able to stand still, this Sig was always on the move. Having a large variety of interests, "Moose" tried and did do well by each of them. In school he took advanced courses in Math and Chemistry and also presided over Sigma Gamma meetings. Evidence of a job well done became apparent when Wayne was tapped by Cum Laude. In his spare hours he relished an occasional game of golf on the weekend with several interludes of sleep. Wayne's initiative led him to assume a part-time job to bring in an extra lump of "spending cash." Wayne was another fine example of what a person can do if he takes the time to apply himself.

BILL WOODWARD

SENIORS

"Sigma Gamma calls . . . Bill Woodward." These five words created the most impressive experience in Bill's years at Withrow. In gaining the honor of being called to Sig, Bill's organizational ability as manager for the cross-country, track, and football teams was recognized. Eager participation, a characteristic which was exemplified during History Club meetings, as well as math and chemistry classes, became a trademark. With a keen interest in sports, golfing and swimming consumed many leisure moments during the summer months, while cheering with Pep Club was a frequent pastime in winter. Final gratification came in knowing that he had been of service to Withrow in many capacities.

Mirror! Mirror! On the wall, who was the choice of them all? Why, Sue Pope, of course. Her radiant reflection in this looking glass aided her in becoming Queen of the Annual Homecoming Dance. One of Sue's happiest experiences was serving as a co-captain of the Drill Team, which performed during the half-time at Tiger football games; but having varied interests, this charming maiden delighted in writing and singing with Tower News and Senior Choir. An image of trustworthiness shone through when Sue was elected treasurer of the Class of '65. This mirror has now reflected the virtue of truth and honesty that all could find in the face in the crowd, the face of vivacious Dux and considerate friend—Sue Pope.

PEG HENSLEY

Remembered: a person endowed with life. Etched in Withrow's memoirs was this attribute. Emanating from the pages were recollections of industrious moments expended presiding over Latin Club meetings, laboring late as Business Manager of Tower News and being smeared, as a Scribbler, with homemade confections. Casual moments were passed running barefoot through soft tufts of grass, rousing cries of encouragement with Pep Club, and becoming entranced in the thoughts of The Prophet. The final pages relived those culminations enveloped in honor for accumulated achievements. The call to Dux (and the subsequent office of treasurer) and the tap of Cum Laude entered here. Remembered: Peg Hensley.

If anyone asks who played that "shrunken flute" for Withrow's Marching Band, tell him, "John Stolzenberg." Besides tooting away on his piccolo, John set a sharp note in his class of 1965. Joining in every club as a notable member, he included History Club, Pep Club, Hi-Y as treasurer, Minstrels, Chess Club as president, Cum Laude, and Sigma Gamma. Between studies for advanced courses, John found pleasure in speaking out on world affairs and roughing it in the great outdoors. A true Jack-of-all trades with hobbies, he experimented with fields from stamp collecting to rock hounding. Blending various tones of academic and social life at Withrow, John played a unique tune in the Senior pageant.

TOM MOON

SENIORS

Up and at 'em was Tom Moon's theme for life here at Withrow. Football required not only the early hours for practice but also many late hours for games. School spirit was also exhibited in his participation in both Pep and Tiger Clubs. Between games and meetings he continued working down in Room 12 as Tower News' Fourth Page Assistant Editor. Advanced Math, Physics, and Chemistry rated this reserved person scholastically prominent. Confirming this were his National Merit Scholarship Test results and his place in the top ten percent of his class. In everything from football to journalism Tom has earned the mark he has made during his years here at Tigertown.

Victory, Victory was her cry, V-I-C-T-O-R-Y. Did she have a team? You're doggone right—with a cheerful victorious future in sight. The voice of this cheerleading captain for football season echoed this spirit which made her triumphant. The points her winning team of charm and adroitness scored elected her manager of the GAA monetary transactions. She crossed the goal line for several TD's—the three "D's" in her life; Dux, Daisy Chain, and Dolphins. Her extra points of meticulous appearance and spontaneous mirth won her a job of Minstrel Usherette. Careful study was her strategy used for being a pro in Advanced English. Victory! Victory is her law! C-O-N-N-I-E—Connie May Renshaw.

CONNIE RENSHAW

Each civilization has created an impregnable edifice —an integral part of his society, be it tangible or intangible—able to endure the fate of posterity. At Withrow, that structure was the presence of Dux Femina and Sigma Gamma. From the multitude of diverse lumps of clay, a varied curriculŭm maneuvered the surging mass, molding human figures that possessed crystals of character and originality. Tense, but ecstatic was the moment when twenty-four of these forms reached their culmination and sifted into the positions being vacated by graduating Dux and Sigs. Steadfast and uncomplaining, the new honoraries assumed their duties—the girls selling popcorn, doughnuts, and corsages in order to accumulate funds for an alumni open house, the Senior boat ride, and scholarships; the boys massing their talents to produce a successful Tigertown Twirl and Senior Prom. Since its inception, the outward countenance of the edifice has changed. Yet, the foundation has remained secure. Behind every red carnation and gold bracelet or every "Sigma Gamma calls . . ." has persisted the cornerstone—integrity.

DEBBY DIEKMAN

Envisioned in the eyes of Debby Diekman were many moods and attributes. Her perception roamed and invaded organizations, scrutinizing their weaknesses, and applying prowess in successfully leading them. The executive board of G.A.A. and Student Council often encountered these eyes as she fulfilled goals and initiated new programs. Intelligence, glimmering through their depths, warranted selection for Cum Laude and Dux Femina. Spirited with gaiety and zeal, she cheered as captain of the varsity cheerleading squad. Tinted with ecstasy, Deb's blue eyes glowed as she was named Tigertown Queen. They were pensive as she sang with Senior Choir. Compassionate, these eyes were never closed to others.

Clearly receptive, Bruce was always tuned to the Withrow Success Station. The "It's Academic" program was a W.S.S. Special in which he matched wits with the best. The daily listing consisted of Advanced Placement courses in math, English, and chemistry. For his excellence in this program, he was nominated, accepted, and tapped for Cum Laude. Switching the channel, one viewed Bruce participating as the chief political producer for the matchless Withrow Mock Election. His variety shows included bridge, chess, and Sigma Gamma, that most popular male group for which he was treasurer. By having such an excellent program schedule, he should be given the seal of good practice.

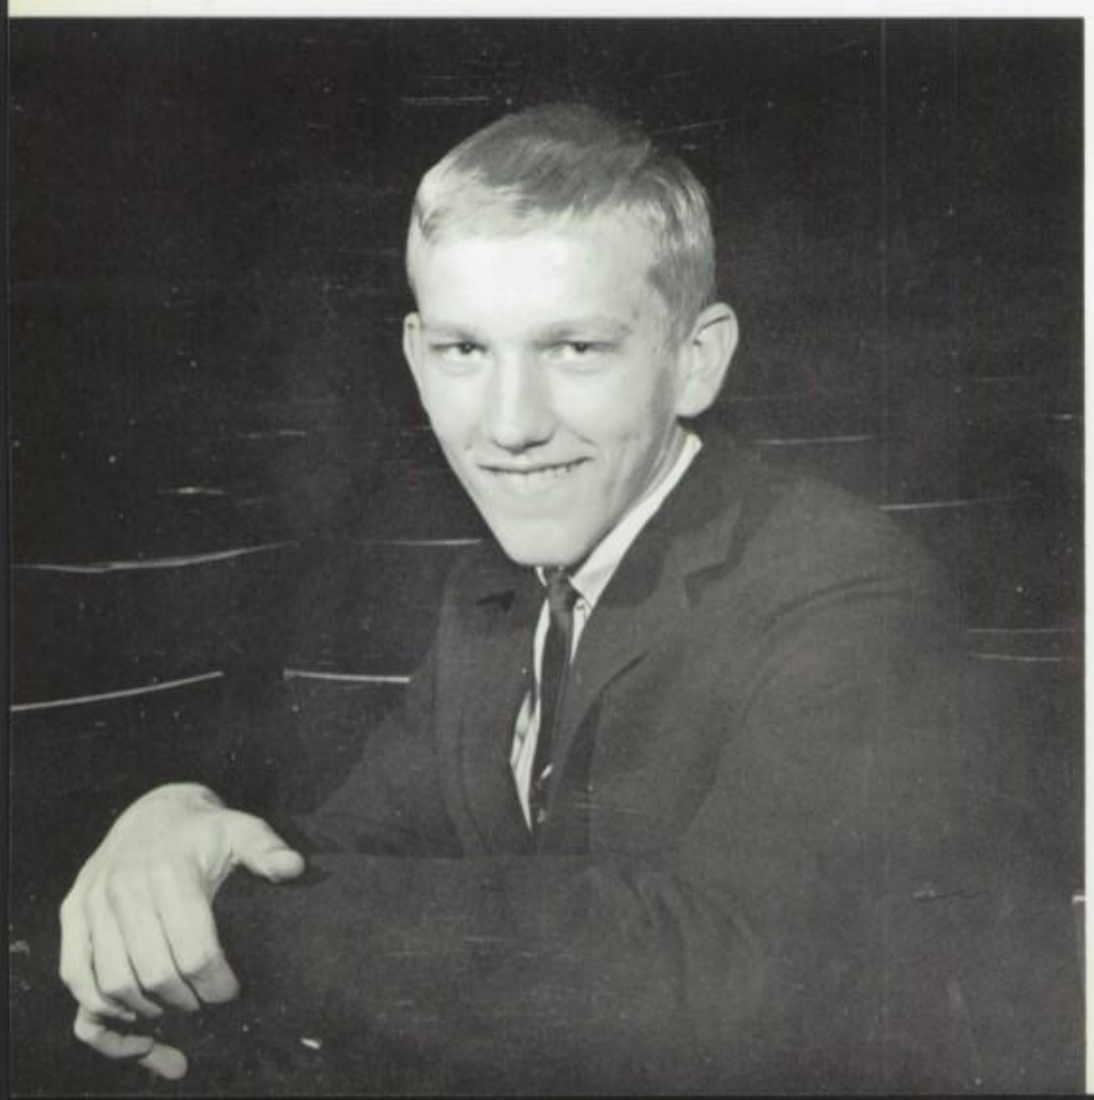
CHARLES HENSLEY



SENIORS

Whether working in the student store or managing the varsity swimming team, Sig Charles Hensley undertook the task with resolve and a steady hand. Charlie spent much of his time in the student store, being there before and after school, at lunchtime, and during summer school. Charles also had the spirit and drive to tackle Advanced Physics and Chemistry, two courses that are far from simple. What spare time Charles had left he liked to keep for himself, though he was not unsociable among friends. Not often in the spotlight at Tigertown, Charles quietly and resolutely developed his qualifications for Sigma Gamma. In reward for his efforts, Charles realized his goal, membership in Withrow's honor fraternity.

Splat! Charlene Oberklaus was haphazardly slapping paint on a Minstreleer's face. What did he do to be thusly treated? Not a thing—Char was just absorbed in thought and was not paying attention to the business at hand. Her mind flashed back to countless memories gained at Withrow. Reliving some graceful moments as secretary of Dance Club, Charlene also remembered the jingle of money cared for as treasurer of Scribblers. She recollected the entrancement of being selected for Dux. When Char recalled the numerous wearisome hours spent as Art Editor of Tower News, she remembered her current task. Gazing into the perplexed face, thick with paint, unostentatious Char laughed her loudest.

DICK COLE

Dick Cole was the man for any job. His forte was expedient planning as contrived by his exacting mind. Believing that a person should make his own way, he did so. The serious expression on his face cast back his "get-to-it" attitude. Having a job after school did not interfere with his activities at Withrow. Sigma Gamma instated him as their efficient corresponding secretary. Student Council meetings became a little quieter by his sergeant-at-arms' authority, but he aided in raising noise when it came to Pep Club, through which he supported Withrow's many athletic endeavors. The tale of Dick Cole was clear; the character, complex; the result creditable.

A portrait of Karen Worth consisted of colorful qualities, intricately blended and chosen with careful consideration. The first hue on the canvas depicted her talent for writing, which she applied as Assistant Literary Editor of the Annual. An accenting tint was her participation in Student Council, GAA, and Pep Club. Another tone from the pallette shaded the picture with "Kare's" membership in Dance Club. Minstrel make-up committee splashed the artist's work with a dash of color. The final touch was the glow produced as these hues swirled together in a colorful representation of Karen's personality in forming a picture of which any artist would be proud.

The shrill of a whistle, the roll of a drum—into this atmosphere pervaded the portrait of a head majorette. Soft, brown tresses teased by the brief delirium of half time; straightforward, hazel eyes darkened by the simultaneous administrations of Dance Club and Scribblers; poised, confident smile undaunted by the opening solo of the '64 Minstrels—this was Jolinda McMahon. Yet, deeply etched in all the features of her countenance was the single, distinctive bond of perfection. It recurred throughout all that she tried. Whether it was presiding over meetings, performing intricate routines or challenging all-comers at a pie-splattered Tigertown booth, "Josie" reigned as herself.

A stream of jet propulsion trailed Charles Wright. It was heard in the throb of a Pontiac engine, which seemed to be a perpetual companion. Or it could be seen with the whirl of airplane propellers as they launched this licensed pilot to great heights. It was expressed through Charlie's keen perception in the field of mathematics and science, which catalyzed his hobbies, a high class standing, and an engrossing job at Eastern Hills Laboratory. This trail of continuous energy also projected his talents into the activities of History Club and Sigma Gamma. For Charlie, Withrow was a testing ground; for his stream of jet propulsion will persist in encountering new worlds.

CHARLES WRIGHT

KATHY GANTZ

A pencil frantically thrown across the page signified the completion of one phase of life for the author. Devoting pages and pages and pages to the experiences of an editor-in-chief of Tower News, she only began to scratch the surface with a few details. From the annals of a corresponding secretary of Scribblers, a vice president of History Club, and an active member of Quill and Scroll emerged the portrait of an author with experience and responsibility. A gregarious and persevering nature identified her as Dux Femina and Cum Laude, from whence developed intriguing chapters. Recollections mounted as did the pages. Her book of retrospection closed, the last page signed Kathy Gantz.

French Club treasurer, president of his church's youth, Sigma Gamma member—these were the attainments of Charlie Ballard; but who was the person behind the honors? A short glimpse into Charlie's world opened with a grin and firm handshake, the outward signs of a deep affinity to others. This closeness, nurtured by foreign language studies, excited his cultural palate for the ideas and ideals of the French people. At Withrow, he found in the services of Hi-Y and the competition of Intramurals new occasions to work together with other students. Charles Ballard followed the axiom that brotherhood is the only lasting investment in life and in so doing found himself behind the honors.

MELODY CORNETT

"There are smiles that make you happy . . ." Yes, Melody Cornett had just such a smile. With an easy-going disposition reflected in an infectious grin, "Mel" found that making friends was an easy matter. Everyone who knew this lively Dux sensed the optimistic outlook that made her life a merry, but mad rush. Where mischievous Melody appeared, laughter surely followed; proof of this was discovered in the gregarious Tower News room, amid the splashes of Dolphin Club, or at a pie-splattering Scribblers' booth. Whether happy or sad herself, she was always ready to brighten someone else's problems. Ever smiling, joking, raising other people's spirits—in every way this was certainly Melody.

Once there was a boy named Kurt Gleich, whose story first began at Withrow. Chapter One personified his mathematical mind, which was applied accurately in Advanced Placement Mathematics. The second chapter included one of Kurt's favorite activities, spending his spare time working for Mr. Gallagher. Cheering at the sports events and bowling were two Pep Club pastimes in which he was also engaged. Chapter Three further exemplified Kurt's tendencies toward leadership as he directed the Senior Class and its project and served on Student Council's Executive Committee. The final chapter in the biography, a culmination of all the rest, was Kurt's membership in Sigma Gamma.

CLAUDIA EBY

SENIORS

"Batter up! Ready! Play Ball!" The first pitch to lively Claudia Eby was a solid base hit. Having worked her way up through the "minor leagues" of G.A.A., she now led the line-up, serving as president. She stole second base on further athletic attributes of her Friday night vigils on the track or basketball court as she cheered the Tiger teams. Reaching third base on the intelligence she gleaned from her three Advanced Placement courses, she disproved the label: "All brawn and no brain." A big lead-off toward home was her position as Dux's secretary. The fulfillment her European trip afforded in understanding human nature gave "Clod" the final boost over the plate to score a home run!

"Double, double, toil and trouble"—that was Sigma Gamma's vice president day in, day out. A quiet, serious, reserved fellow comprised the industrious "Murph," whose face was etched in sports. Here he displayed his ability to excel. As fourth page editor, he brought new fame to the sports section of Tower News, for he had collected numerous ribbons during his participation for Withrow's swimming team, the Anderson Hills Swim Club, and the Cincinnati Marlins. These deeds often became obscured beneath the impish "Murph," who flashed a quick smile and a pun for fun. This face, found in a crowd everywhere, indeed had two sides; but emanating from either was Best All-Round, Mike Murphy.

GEORGE KOPITTKE

Forward, march! Down the field marched the Withrow band with George Kopittke playing his saxophone. "Knopke" had no rest in his measure of a day. During lunchtime he applied himself to the job of selling tickets at the ticket booth or helping Mr. "G." Being seated as first chair of the saxophone section was quite a superior chord to strike. Working conscientiously brought him to a crescendo of both musical and scholastic abilities. His superior grades harmonized with his accomplished performance in the Presentation Orchestra. Ranking in the top ten percent of his class provided the final note which will sound the distinction he earned during his years at Withrow.

How about peeking at the concealed identity of a DUX member? "C" stood for clubs, such as, Pep Club, History Club, French Club, Scribblers, and Gens Togata, of which she was President. "A" stood for activities like attending Girls' State, battling on its academic team and toiling lengthy hours into the night as third page editor of Tower News. "T" stood for the tap, tap, tap, felt at the indescribable moment this student was accepted into the Cum Laude Society. "H" stood for humor. She always had an amiable disposition and a smile for everyone. Finally, "Y" stood for Yea! Attending athletic events awarded her with a good, loyal feeling. Can you guess? Precisely!—Cathy—Cathy Overhulse.

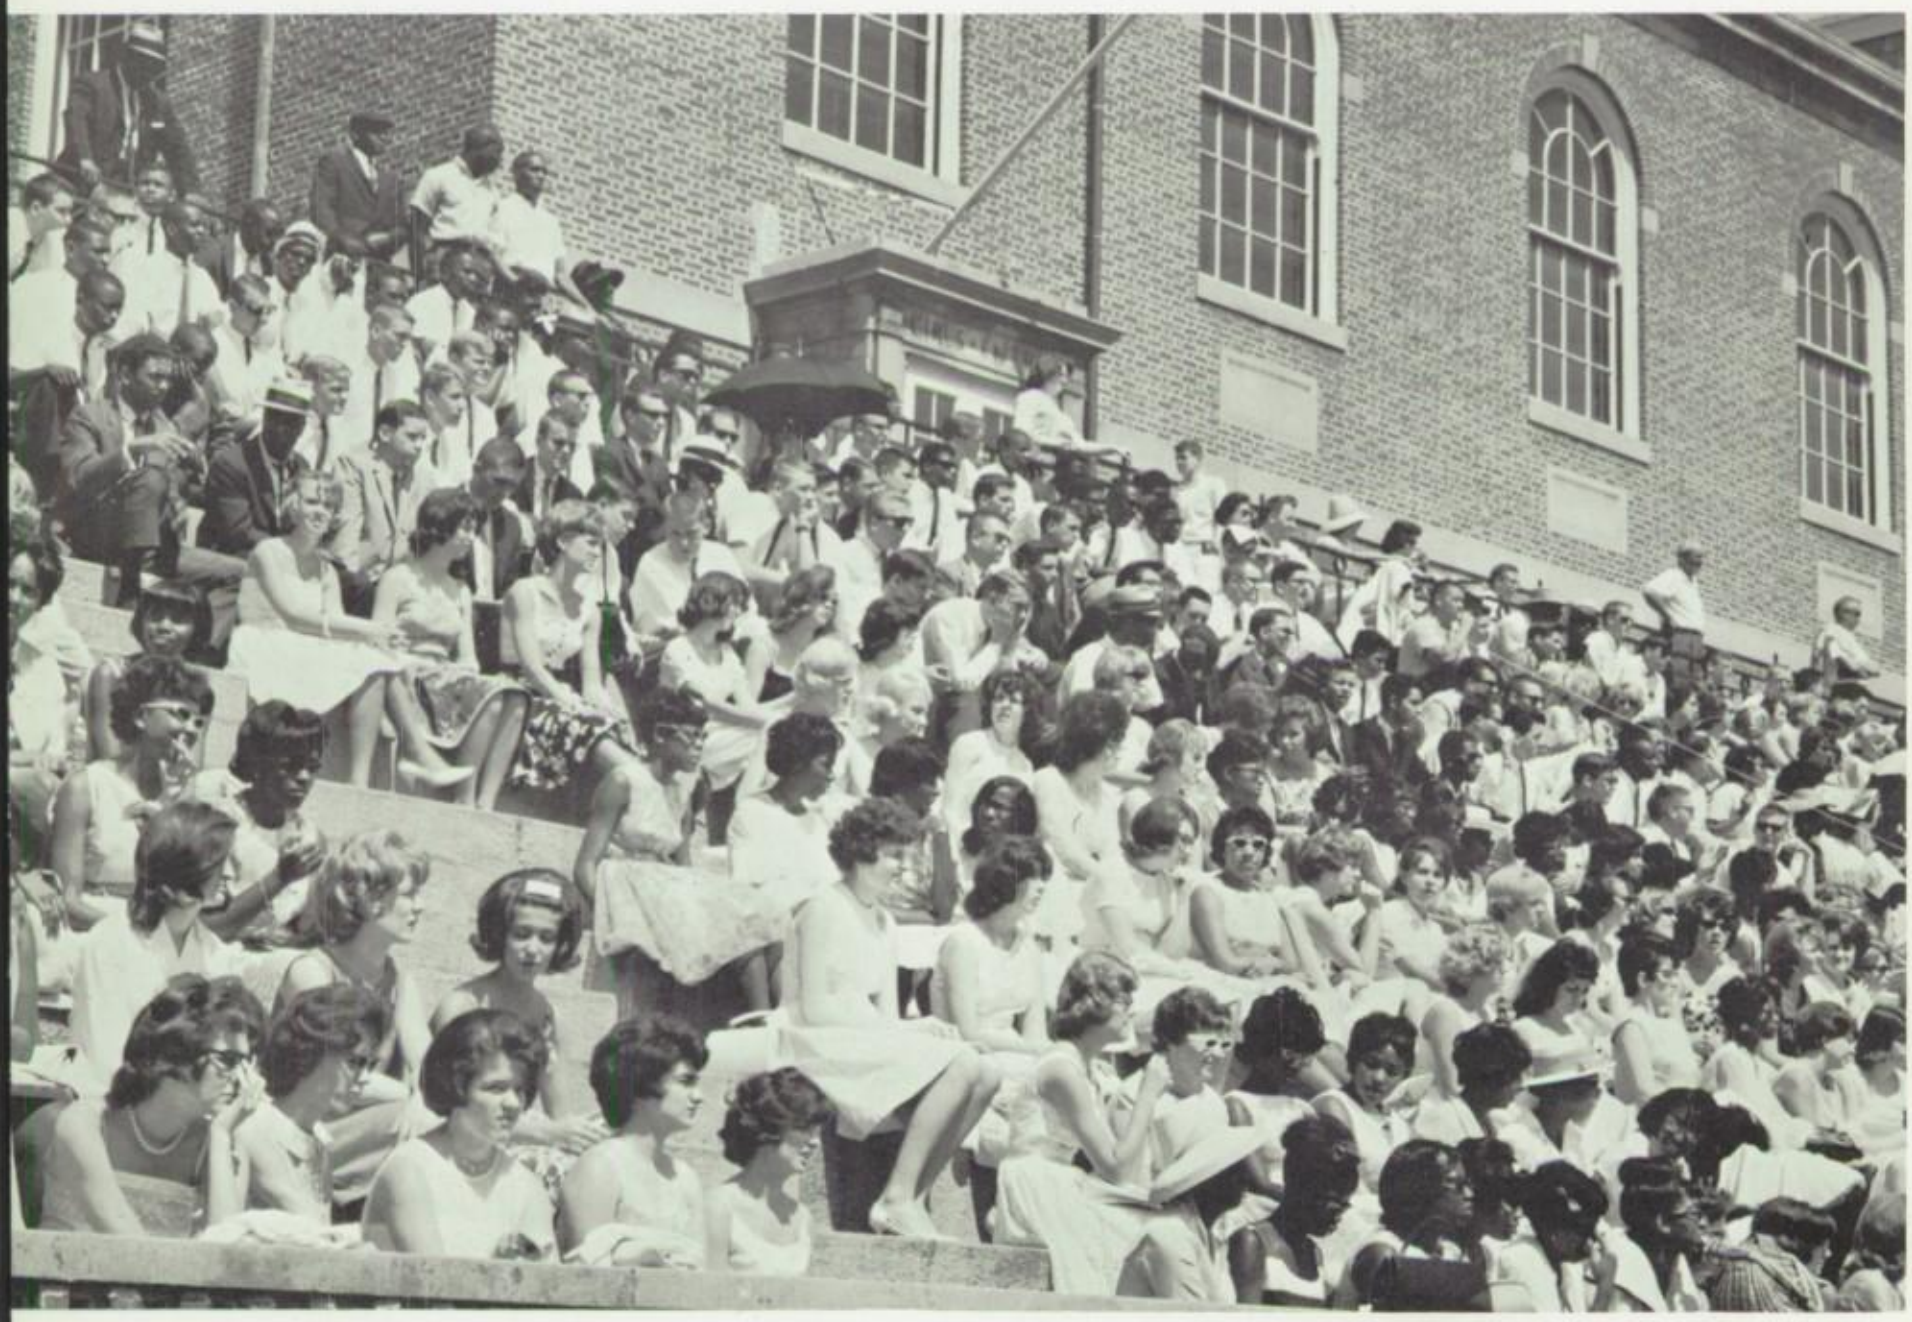
JUDY EVELER ANTICIPATES, AS MR. AYER CONGRATULATES.



AWARDS DAY IS THE FACE OF RECOGNITION, REFLECTING THE GLORY OF SENIORS AND INDUCING UNDERCLASSMEN TO GREATER HEIGHTS.

EACH SPRING IS ALIVE WITH THE TRANSITION FROM OLD TO NEW. AS SENIORS WE ARE WISE IN A LIMITED SCOPE. YET NEW VISTAS DIVERGE IN THE DISTANCE. OF THESE WE ARE NAIVE AND CURIOUS. IN SYMBOLIC GESTURE, WE SHIFT THE TASSELS OF OUR CAPS FROM PAST TO FUTURE. GRADUATION IS OUR SPRING TRANSITION.

THE ALMA MATER

GENTLE SLOPES AND LOFTY TOWER
RADIANT IN THE SUN,
ARCHING BRIDGE AND SHADED VALLEY,
ALL OUR HEARTS ARE ONE.
WITHROW'S BEAUTY, WITHROW'S
SPLENDOR
FILL OUR HEARTS WITH PRIDE,
LOVE FOR YOU OUR ALMA MATER
EVER WILL ABIDE.

Lyrics written by Scribblers' member, Rowena Hezlep, in 1945, at the request of Sigma Gamma.

"Not just an extension...
It's my very own line!"

" . . . And it's great! Now Dad can call home without getting a busy signal . . . and Mom . . . she says she almost forgot what it was like to pick up the phone and call somebody . . . "

It's easy to see why so many busy families are ordering second lines to handle teenage talkathons. This wonderful convenience is worth many times its little added cost.

WILL YOU GET AWAY SO THEY CAN TAKE MY PICTURE?

Crowded corridors, confused people existing;
Crowded classrooms, confused people struggling;
Unjust students corrupting, unjust teachers fostering—
One is lost.

Crowded corridors, confused people finding truth;
Crowded classrooms, confused people gaining knowledge;
Honest students questioning, honest teachers enlightening—
One is found.
